Next, Valerie McDonald-Roberts as if there were any public comments? The public comments are listed below:
1. Rich Johnston - Allegheny Dwellings, who owns a home across from Allegheny Dwellings, asked for a meeting with Mr. Binion. He stated that he spoke to Yasmin Shaheed numerous times. Mr. Binion set up a meeting for August 1, 2019. After the meeting Amy Shaffer will contact Ms. Johnston to set a time regarding repairing the bullet holes in his house.

2. Joanne Mosley - is a neighbor of Rich Johnston and speaking to the board to support Mr. Johnston. Re: negligent landlord; responsible property managers for Allegheny Dwellings.

3. Ronell Guy - Member of the Landless Peoples Alliance and Tenant Union. She proclaimed that HACP should not follow national policy. HACP needs to stop demolishing buildings/units; creating a moratorium on demolition and find efficient and effective means to managing public housing. The private/public partnerships are not working.

4. Lisa Gonzalez – She asked for a moratorium on the issuing of Section 8 vouchers to give people, currently on the program, more time to find a Section 8 acceptable unit.

5. Adrian Crummell – She said she was in “h.e.l.l.” and that KBK not in compliance at Larimer Pointe. She asked who protects tenant? HACP needs to mediate between landlords and tenants. Is there a self-sufficiency program at Larimer Point – such as the escrow program?

   Her PBV counselor has not had her account right in 3 years. She paid $2,000.00 to KBK and shouldn’t have (as she is a zero renter). How does she get her money back? She went to Washington, D.C. to express her frustration.

6. Randall Taylor said there has to be a new way of doing things and dealing with low income folks with housing issues. Mr. Taylor also advocated for the stoppage of destruction of NVH and Bedford Dwellings.

7. Steve Capri – Affordable housing in Pittsburgh is at a very low point and that instead of demolishing existing properties, HACP should look into renovating the properties instead or find some other solution besides demolition for example, he said, Penn Plaza. Peter Kaplan spoke up and said that Penn Plaza was not HACP’s project.

8. Sherman Hopson – Bedford – spoke about Choice Neighborhoods is going to push folks to the suburbs and they will have to choose between utilities and food. AMI is constantly going up and something needs to be done. Also when is Bedford going to have a proper council? The aborigines were also tenants kicked out for they are the indigenous population.

9. Craig Stevens – North Point Breeze – Landless Peoples Alliance and Tenant Union. There should be more low income/mixed income communities. Nothing should be demolished and asked that Rev. Burgess support a true mixed-income community.

10. Carmen Brown – last of public comments. Ms. Brown said she was there to support everything everyone said about the tearing down of properties and that we should stop demolition.

   There were no more public comments.
Michelle Sandidge presented the recipients of the Clean Slate E3 Scholarship awards to twelve of the HACP residents. They will each receive 5,000.00 a year for 4 years.

Next Michelle Sandidge introduced the HACP summer interns to the Board.
